

November 16 to 17, 2016

Workshop U4C

Sustainable Systems and Societies: Energy, Environment and Policy Frameworks

University of Campinas

University of Bath

Zhejiang University

Stellenbosch University

Join us for a discussion about Energy, Bioenergy & Bioproducts and Sustainability & Policies

The U4C Network is an international flagship initiative. It consists of four leading research-focused institutions with complementary strengths, who will work together to address the major economic, political and social issues in each partner country and influence policy makers nationally and internationally, in a way that would not be possible in isolation.
